Make an Elegant Statement with the Finesse of Wrought Iron

From a simple shape to an elegant motif, we translate your idea into a masterpiece.

Cantera Doors has been crafting and supplying artistically designed wrought iron and steel doors, windows, gates, railings and more as the leading iron door manufacturer in Texas, Florida, and throughout the United States since 1995.

Our 95,000 square foot manufacturing facility utilizes the latest technology, expert skilled labor and premium materials for the creation and installation of our products.

Most of the actual construction is done by hand, artistically forging each finished product into a one-of-a-kind work of art.

While many of our competitors try to replicate Cantera Doors products, our craftsmanship and quality are unmatched, and all of our designs are trademarked and copyright-protected to guarantee authenticity.

UNITY BY DESIGN

Perhaps your project provides several opportunities to use wrought iron: an entrance door, windows, a wine cellar door, a stair or balcony railing, or even a driveway gate. By integrating a common design, a sophisticated and unified theme is created and showcased throughout your home.

OLD WORLD CRAFTSMANSHIP

Our manufacturing process combines centuries-old forging techniques with today's technology to produce iron products that are built to last.

THE CHOICE IS YOURS

Choose from one of our hundreds of copyrighted designs, or create something that is completely unique for a beautiful, custom-made, work of art developed just for you.

LUX LINE

Our Lux line of doors and windows are based on European designs: steel windows and doors with an historical profile. Their unique characteristic of simulated or true divided panes of glass produces a very clean and classic appearance that works equally well in old world and contemporary applications.

Elegant, narrow sight lines superior strength and durability, quality craftsmanship and unparalleled security are just some of the many features that make Lux windows and doors the ideal choice for residential and commercial applications.

We currently offer Old World and Contemporary profiles with standard frames or narrow sideline frames.
